CNASIM Standardizes on DocuSign to Help Real Estate Go Fully Digital in France

2015-11-03

PARIS, Nov. 3, 2015 /PRNewswire/ -- The National Chamber of Trade Union Officers and Agents for Commercial Real Estate (CNASIM) has standardized on DocuSign, Inc. (DocuSign®) for Digital Transaction Management (DTM) and eSignature to help the French real estate industry go fully digital. CNASIM's adoption of DocuSign will help its more than 3000 members close deals faster, reduce costs, and delight property buyers and sellers with a better real estate transaction experience.

DocuSign modernizes transactions by eliminating printing, faxing, scanning and overnighting documents like professional liability contracts for Commercial real estate agents. Real estate agents and Commercial real estate agents benefit from DocuSign with:

- Close deals faster – DocuSigning takes minutes instead of days to complete real estate contracts.
- Save money – DocuSign eliminates costs associated with paperwork by taking real estate processes fully digital.
- Enhance customer satisfaction – DocuSign offers the convenience of signing anytime, anywhere, on any device.

"In order to be ever more responsive to our members, the choice to standardize on DocuSign for digital signature seemed obvious following our use of DocuSign to better serve their clients with faster, more efficient all-digital processes," said Bruno Garreau, President, CNASIM. "Indeed, DocuSign enables us to send membership materials digitally and receive legally enforceable signatures from our members in a matter of minutes. With DocuSign, all the industry can achieve the same benefits of speed, lower cost, and delighted customers in their own real estate transactions."

"We're pleased to welcome CNASIM to The DocuSign Global Trust Network as both a customer and partner," said Sebastien Francois, Country Manager, DocuSign France. "DocuSign digital signatures offer massive advantages to real estate agents by simplifying and streamlining processes for greater productivity so agents can spend less time on paperwork, and more time serving their clients."
